

The MTM Competition

Calling all original recording artists!

Win a full production recording session at MyOwnAlbum Recording Studio!

Aspiring artists looking to record their own music can often struggle without the benefit of professional production services, so investing in high-quality music production is of paramount importance for any artist. With that thought in mind, this month's fantastic competition offers you the chance to have your music recorded for free at MyOwnAlbum Recording Studio – www.myownalbum.com – a facility that provides a professional and comprehensive music production recording service for singer/songwriters, professional recording artists and musicians.

The studios are located in Yorkshire and are close to major transport links, making them easily accessible from anywhere in the UK. However, if that is too far for you, MyOwnAlbum can also arrange for artists to have their vocals recorded at Chapel Recording Studios in London and at other leading UK recording studios.

MyOwnAlbum can work with most musical genres and styles, with the main ingredients of the production being the dynamics and arrangements that are so vital for tracks to shine. Artists will work with their own producer and arranger, and the production quality is guaranteed to be of major label standard, benefitting from the input of world-class session playing and arrangements on your track.

Recording takes place under the direction of MyOwnAlbum Executive Producer Carl Stipetic, a renowned producer/arranger and composer and a former session musician for EMI, whose outstanding breadth of musical knowledge will ensure that your music receives the professional attention it deserves. Carl has received glowing reviews from top music industry professionals, music journalists and critics over the years, with producer and director Andrew Solt hailing him as a composer and producer that we will hear a lot more from in the future.

Once the post-production click track/music sketch has been created from your demo or vocal melody, the WAV file recording will then be sent to MyOwnAlbum for the final production of the track.

To be in with a chance of winning a recording session at MyOwnAlbum, simply email – or send us a link to – a vocal melody of your song, or a rough demo recording, to studio@myownalbum.com – letting us know what you consider your musical genre to be.

After the competition closing date on 31 January 2012, three winners will be chosen from three genres and each will receive a full music production and recording package under the direction of Carl Stipetic, as well as a jewel-case cover design put together by the studio's in-house design team.
